The name "Waidner" and its origins

Waidner is an occupation name meaning "dyer" of cloth and leather. It is thought to have originated in Switzerland or western Austria, although as an occupation name it may have originated in several places. One line of research suggests that about the year 1550 a group of German speaking Swiss adopted the teachings of Martin Luther. Their neighbors, who remained loyal to the Catholic Church, disagreed strongly with Lutheran philosophy. As a result, the Waidners (among others) were forced to leave Switzerland. They immigrated to southern Germany, settling in what is now the state of Baden-Württemberg. The name Waidner has been traced to the Tyrol where it is identified about 1450 with two brothers and a coat of arms. This coat of arms, showing a steer rampant on a field of green, is that of a farmer and not of a person employed in the dying of cloth or leather, and so it may be presumed that the family name's originated in the middle ages.

German immigration in the 19th century

The wave of German immigration to the United States in the nineteenth century was primarily driven by the lure of cheap farmland. Economic conditions and political turmoil also played a part, but the availability of good and affordable farmland in a climate resembling that of Germany, played the major role in drawing Germans to Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois. The precise motivation that brought Philipp Jacob Waidner and other Waidners to America is unknown. Some were tradesmen and others were farmers. All settled in their new communities and multiplied.

Waidner emigrants from Germany

There are at least seven Waidner families in the US descended from Germans who immigrated to the United States in the 19th century. Most of these immigrants came from Wüttemberg and the vicinity of Herrenalb. Some of these families trace their roots back to Beatus Waidner who was born about 1590 in Rotensol, a town near Herrenalb. The origins and descendents of Beatus Waidner is the subject of another book.

1. Philipp Jacob Waidner

The first, in order of the year of immigration, is Philipp Jacob Waidner and his descendents. Philipp left Germany in 1830 with eight of his children, four sons and four daughters, following the death of his wife, Rosina Barbara Kull, in 1828. Philipp and his family settled in Baltimore, Maryland. Philipp and Rosina had 14 children, thus several of their children, most likely married with families of their own, chose to remain in Germany. Of these little is known today, mainly because of a lack of research in that direction. Philipp and his family landed in Baltimore sometime in the third quarter of the year, as attested to by entries in the Baltimore Port of Entry records. An entry for Philipp dated January, 1830, is also found in the Wüttemberg emigration records.

Philipp is buried in Western Cemetery, Baltimore, Maryland, (Lot 58, Area V - Schaeffer Lot). His tombstone carries the following inscription:

PHILLIP J. WAIDNER
Born May 30, 1775
Died June 25, 1853
A subject of the kingdom of Wüttemberg but for the past 25 years a resident of this city.

Philipp Jacob Waidner and his descendents

The family records of Henry A. Waidner, one of Philipp's grandsons, records this description of Philipp: "Very large man - almost 4 feet across shoulders. Employed as laborer - violent temper - married twice." The name of Phillip's second wife is unknown, although the Henry A. Waidner papers indicate it may have been Rohrbach. There are Rohrbachs buried in Western Cemetery. There does not seem to be any connection with the Schaeffer family in whose lot Philip is buried as the same papers indicate the payment for this grave site being made by a "Lewis Waitner" (Louis A. Waidner).

2. Johanne Maria Waidner

The second immigrant Waidner family is descended from Adam Frederick Waidner (b. 1784), whose daughter Johanne Maria Waidner (b. 1811) married Christoff Frederick Kull (b. 1803). Both Johanne and Christoff emigrated to the US and settled in Strasburg, Illinois. This family has been extensively researched by William Gaylord Kull of St. Louis, Missouri, a descendent of Johanne and Christoff.

3. Christopher Frederick Waidner

The third Waidner family is descended from Christopher Frederick Waidner (b. 1863), who emigrated to the US in 1882, settling in Mishawaka, Indiana. This family has also been extensively researched by Marjorie Lutz Waidner of Morrow, Ohio.

4. Michigan Waidners

The author knows very little about this family.

5. Ohio Waidners

The author knows very little about this family.

All five of these Waidner families are closely related by many marriages to the Kull families of Herrenalb, Rotensol, and Bernbach.

6. Louis Waidner

Aother Waidner family in the US originated with Louis Waidner, who emigrated from Wittenberg, Germany in 1850 and settled in Allentown, Pennsylvania, following his participation in the revolution of 1848. Any connection of this family with the Waidners originating in Herrenalb and vicinity seems remote because Wittenberg is located south of Berlin, a considerable distance from Wüttemberg.

7. John C. Waidner's ancestors

At the very end of the century another Waidner family emigrated to the US and some of their descendents, the John C. Waidner family, now live in Jacksonville, Florida. John C. Waidner's grandfather emigrated to the US from Herrenalb and settled in Ohio. These Waidners may very well be related to the Ohio Waidners mentioned above.

History of Württemberg

The home of our ancestors in Europe is the town of Bad Herrenalb, a city in the county of Calw, province of Baden-Württemberg, Germany. Baden-Württemberg lies 70% in the Rhine basin and 30% in the Danube basin. Its principal river is the Neckar. Herrenalb is located about ten miles in a straight line northeast of Baden-Baden and is the northern end of the Black Forest. Adjacent to the present Evangelical Church in Herrenalb are the ruins of an early Cistercian cloister.

Württemberg's first known inhabitants were Celts and the Suebi. Early in the 3rd century the Alemanni drove the Romans beyond the Rhine and the Danube. Franks under Clovis later conquered the Alemanni in 496. In the 9th century Württemberg was incorporated with the German duchy of Swabia. In 1268 the area came under the control of the Count of Württemberg.

Württemberg was invaded by the French in 1676 and remained under French control until 1733. Alexander, who became duke in 1733, embraced the Roman Catholic faith. When Frederick II became duke in 1797 the royal house became Protestant and remained so thereafter.

In 1806 Frederick assumed the title of King and joined with Napoleon in the campaign against Prussia, Austria and Russia. After the battle of Leipzig Frederick deserted the French emperor and by a treaty with Metternick in 1813 his troops joined the Allies in marching into France. In 1815 the king joined the German Confederation. In 1866 Württemberg on behalf of Austria entered into a war with and was defeated by Prussia. In 1871 Württemberg became a member of the new German Empire. Following World War I the king abdicated.

Historic Herrenalb

Situated on the Alb river, "Herrenalb" can be loosely translated as "Men of the Alb". In the past only the nobility were addressed as "Herr". "Herr" was also the lowest nobility: Freie Herren, Freiherr, "free men". In the past, monks in most cases were younger sons of the nobility. In the oldest documents Herrenalb is named "monasterium in Alba" then "Alba dominorum". It was later called Herrenalb to distinguish it from the nunnery in Frauenalb which is downstream to the north about 5 km.

In 1149 Berthold von Eberstein and his wife Uta founded the monastery in Herrenalb 11 years after the nunnery in Frauenalb. Speculation is that the craftsmen who built the monastery also built houses during the construction of the monastery and then stayed there.

What is the "right" translation of Herrenalb? Literally, Herrenalb translates as "Men of the Alb" to distinguish it from Frauenalb, "Women of the Alb." Perhaps "Monastery at the Alb" is also a reasonable interpretation. According to Manfred Von Köhnlein, a resident of Bernbach, "Gentlemen of the Alb" or "Lords of the Alb" would be appropriate also.

Modern Herrenalb

Now known as Bad Herrenalb, the modern town is in the Black Forest (Schwarzwald) and at the end of a regional rail line that connects through Efflingen with Karlsruhe. The town of Herrenalb now includes the small village of Bernbach, two km to the northwest of the Kullenmühle district. The town is a popular conference center and the hot springs on the west side of town, which account for the "Bad" designation, are renowned mineral baths. There are Waidners living today in Herrenalb and nearby towns.

The Waidners of this account were from the Kullenmühle district of Herrenalb, which lies north of the town center. The district is named for a sawmill founded and operated for a time by the Kull family, who have various marriage connections with the Waidners. The mill building is still standing and in recent years has been used as a residence.

Of interest also are two monuments in the center of the village remembering men from the area who were members of the German military and who died in World Wars I and II. The WWI monument lists several Waidners with given names of Jacob and Frederick. Quite possibly these men were distant relatives of Waidners in the US who also fought in Europe in that war.

Notes for FREDERICKA STRAEVEL:

LOUIS AUGUST W Aidner, which is the name we shall use hereafter, married a second time. On 26 Mar 1828 he m. FREDERICKA STRAEVEL, b. 18 Sep 1808, d. 05 May 1898. There are three versions of Fredericka's origin:

(a) From the Louis A. Waidner (2) family record: "Fredericka not German; born in Alsace-Lorraine. Her mother died on boat and she was taken care of by Mr. Waesche, who brought her up. She lived on Franklin Street. She lived to be 91. Gentle and quiet."

(b) From the Henry A. Waidner family record: "Fredericka born in Württemberg. Came to the US when she was about 8 years of age. Her Mother deserted her in Hagerstown. She was apprenticed to a family named Waesche who lived on Lexington Street, near Uncle Gideon (Gideon Numsen). Was treated kindly. Father disappeared."

(c) George Louis Shaw (2) recalling in 1977 the story as told to him by his father who was Fredericka's grandson: "Fredericka emigrated from Germany and later her mother "loaned her out" (indentured servant) and fortunately she served the kindly Waesche family. She was abandoned by her mother; her father, unknown."

The 1820 Federal Census reveals Frederick Waesche, male under 45 whose household consisted of 2 males under 10, 1 male under 16, 1 female under 26 and spouse under 45. The female, noted as under 26, could have been Fredericka as she was about 12 years of age at that census time.

George Louis Shaw (2) writes: "The family of Louis A. and Fredericka Waidner lived in one of two, owned, small, contiguous houses on Columbia Avenue near Fremont for many years. All the Shaw tribe were born there, also Louis A. (2), Henry A., Frederick A., Amelia and Mary Waidner were under the roof (at one time) of that small house. Where they ever squeezed rooms, beds, etc. and lodged all of these people is a great mystery. I also heard that Fredericka kept a small milk store in the basement. Fredericka deserved a 'crown of glory. She worked and worked - day and night - raising both Waidner and Shaw families - how it all was ever accomplished is beyond belief."

Philipp Jacob Waidner and his descendents

About the year 1888 - John George Shaw and Amelia bought a larger and better older house a block away from their old two houses - then all moved to the new address at 666 Columbia. Fredericka at that time sold the 2 older houses - I think for about $1,600, cheap at that time - and moved with John George and Amelia. After World War I property in the area had a minor boom - and - behold - those two small houses wonce owned by Louis A. and Fredericka - now owned by others - sold for $20,000 - and a movie theater was built on the site. Time was against the Waidners."

George Louis Shaw (2) writes again in 1978: "Louis A. Waidner engaged in dairying in Baltimore City and he pastured cows on rented land, also had a milk wagon or two out serving routes. I recall my father's uncle, Louis A. Waidner (2) saying: "as a boy I drove one milk wagon and had a customer, an old Quaker lady who ordered ½ cents worth of milk each morning and another ½ cents worth in the afternoon.". Louis A Waidner did will the two houses and about $10,000 (a small fortune in those days) when he died, and, according to his will, my great grandmother, Fredericka, received the two houses and the money was to be invested in US Government bonds - she to received the income for her lifetime."

Notes for ROBERT ALLEN WAIDNER:

From Baltimore Sun for Sunday, 22 Mar 1902: "Miss Rosa Pauline Beuschel, daughter of Mr. Gustavus Beuschel, 1550 Pennsylvania Ave., was married Monday night in her sickbed to Mr. Robert Allen Waidner, of this city. Some days ago she was taken seriously ill and her life was despaired of last Sunday when a consultation of physicians was held. It was her desire, as well as that of Mr. Waidner, that their marriage should take place immediately." Further info: Rosa, at age 32, a widow, married Francis L. Olefs, 41, a widower.

(Dates don't match. Rosa, at age 32, is a widow who marries FLO, yet RA Waidner lived to 1911.)

OBITUARY for Thomas Moulding Beers (1)

Delavan, Wis.-Thomas Moulding Beers, 86, died in Delavan on Saturday, January 2nd. Mr. Beers was born September 11, 1912, in Chicago, the son of Sylvester Piper Beers and Sarah Moulding Beers. He graduated from Evanston High School and in 1934 from Dartmouth College. He married Mary Ella Waidner on September 16, 1939, in Wilmette Illinois. In World War II he served as Lt. Commander in the US Navy in both the Atlantic and Pacific theaters. After college he worked at R. R. Donnelley and Sons in Chicago and was Vice President of Sales in 1959 when he moved to Washington, DC. There he was Vice President and Associate Secretary of the National Geographic Society until his retirement in 1976. As a volunteer for seven years with the Nature Conservancy, he used direct mail to increase that organization's membership fivefold. In 1995 he and his wife returned to Delavan Lake where they met in 1931 and had spent many summers. Mr. Beers was an avid birder, sailor, and conservationist, a former member of the Chevy Chase Club, University Club of Washington, Chicago Athletic Club, Delavan Lake Yacht Club, and a former Director of the Inland Lakes Yachting Association. He is survived his wife of 59 years, Mary; two daughters, Dr. Susan B. Betzer (Peter) of St. Petersburg, FL, Nancy W. Beers of Chevy Chase, MD; two sons, Dr. Thomas M. Beers, Jr. (Jane of San Diego, CA, Richard W. Beers (Kay) of Delavan Lake; six grandchildren and nine nieces and nephews.

A memorial service will be held at 11 am on Saturday, January 9th at the United Church of Christ in Delavan. Private burial. The Family asks that memorials be sent to either the Delavan Lake Sailing School, PO Box 482, Delavan, WI 53115, or to the Nature Conservancy.

Betzer Funeral Home in Delavan is serving the Beers family. 414-728-2500

In memory of TM Beers, by his son, Richard W. Beers.

We had a memorable holiday season.

Philipp Jacob Waidner and his descendents

On January 2 at 9:15 pm Dad left this world for the next regatta. He was attended by my brother, Tom Jr., sister, Susan, me, and the angel who promised to stay with him till death do they part for 59 years and 109 days, my Mother, Mary. His passing was VERY peaceful, and he left with a almost undetectable sigh. As brother Tom said, it was an honor to see the gift of life passing away.

Dad was a sailor and bit of a contrarian. He chose the worst snowstorm in a decade to set his sails and go out with a blaze of snowflakes and wind. No doubt he was belly aching about why we didn't have the spinnaker set already. After he breathed his last, Mom said "Tommy, this is your new race to sail and you are at the mark first again."

That night (Saturday) the snowstorm ended and Sunday was cold and clear. He'd say "Let's get on with it!"

Before he left, we had another concern. When Mom heard from the Dr. last Monday, a week ago that Dad had to leave the hospital and go to the nursing home, she took it very hard. During a conversation with my sisters (Susan and Nancy), she complained of chest pains. Susie (a physician in St. Petersburg, FL.) took her to the hospital as a patient, not as a rider in the ambulance to take Dad to the nursing home. Two days later she had an angioplasty, removing some plaque, and she recovered to be with Dad. At first we thought she had just a broken heart, but there was some biology behind it.

We are going to have a memorial service in Delavan on Sat. January 9 at 11 am. Dad's body will be cremated this week, and his ashes will be placed in the gravesite he and Mom bought in the 1960s near his childhood friends.

For those who are so inclined, we would appreciate donations to be made to the Delavan Lake Sailing School, as it is a tax deductible donation to an educational institution (PO Box 482, Delavan, WI, 53115), or the Nature Conservancy national headquarters where he, as a volunteer, put together a drive which increased that membership by fivefold in three years between 1976 and 1979. Sorry I don't have their address but it is in Alexandria, VA.

Reading this message, however, would be good enough for him.

Mom and Dad met on Delavan Lake in 1931 and were fortunate to come full circle back to this spiritual home.

Two years ago I got him on board my E scow. He sailed these boats from 1939 to 1965. He skipped a special race named after the man who taught him how to sail in the 1920's, and won it. He didn't have a lot of competition, but then 90% of success in life is just showing up. This year my 13 year old Mary Katherine sailed the same boat in the same race and won it. She was so proud to have her name on this big silver vase with her Granddad. This also allowed him to claim the title of oldest active skipper at age 84.

He is a hard act to follow, but follow we will. I am reminded of the Dan Fogelberg song "Leader of the Band" when I think of his passing. The refrain (at least I think it is called the refrain) goes like this:

The leader of the band is tired and his eyes are growing old, but his blood runs through my instrument and his song is in my soul.
My life is a poor attempt to imitate the man. I am the living legacy of the leader of the band. WE are the living legacy of the leader of the band.

It's interesting that when I played the song one morning, my brother said he remembered it and thought about Dad when it was first released. I remember listening to it in Magill Hall at Illinois Wesleyan Univ. around 1973 and thinking I would like to remember it when my Dad grew old.

So it was a magical moment and a wonderful ending to a fantastic life. We are grateful for the gift of physical life he gave us as well as the gift of love of life.

About this Document

In 1996 John T. Waidner, Jr., initially transcribed this document into a Microsoft Word file from a similar document prepared by John T. Waidner, Sr. in the early 1980s. Since then the document has been updated as family history has been discovered and new relations located. This revision list has been included to assist with locating revisions in the document. To further assist with locating revisions, sidebars in the outside margin have been included to note changed text.

02 May 1999

Added the descendents of William Francis Waidner following an email correspondence with T. Christopher Waidner. Chris Waidner provided the clues, then a search of John T. Waidner Sr.'s notes located unpublished information he'd been collecting for incorporation, but had not done so for reasons unknown.

04 May 1999

Added descendents of Florence A. Shaw from unpublished notes of John T. Waidner, Sr. Also, added data supplied by T. Christopher Waidner during a telephone conversation regarding his siblings. The middle name of Chris' Great Grandfather was corrected from "Francis" to "Frederick."

08 February 1999

A steady stream of corrections and additions have been made over the past eight months in order to maintain this record current with ongoing research. Publication at this time is for the purpose of preparing a document to share with Marjorie and Bill Waidner of Morrow, Ohio.
